Research4Life user agreement and terms of use

- Research4Life collections require a signed user agreement that activates the account.
- The user agreement is between the registered institution and the publisher partners of Research4Life.
- It allows the licensee to use the publishers' offer and defines the rules of use for all Research4Life collections.
- It covers key information on the use of credentials, copyright and fair usage.

Research4Life ALLOWS registered institutions and their authorized users to:

- Share the password with colleagues, students or faculty members in the same institution,
- Download or print up to 15% of a journal issue or book,
- Use material for educational purposes (course packs or reserves) or make copies for institutional members,
- Use Research4Life collections on personal computers owned personally by the employees, faculty or students of the institution.

Registration for Research4Life collections

- A step-by-step guide on how to register online is available at the Research4Life web site - <https://www.research4life.org/access/how-to-register/>
- Individuals are not eligible to register, only institutions are.
- An online registration form is available at the Research4Life web site
- Before proceeding, please check the list of registered institutions to see if the institution is already registered.
- Once the submitted registration form has been reviewed by Research4Life, the applicant will receive an email with further instructions.

Access to Research4Life

- Research4Life grants access in two ways:
  1. Through institutional IP address.
  2. Through institutional login credentials.
- Registered institutions are recommended to upgrade access by registering their institutional IP as this provide seamless access for its users.
- Please make sure that the IP address of the institution is registered in the IP Registry, this is a necessary validation step before Research4Life can register the institutional IP in its system.
- Once registered in the IPRegistry, send your request for IP registration to r4l@research4life.org

Research4Life is committed to the UN's Sustainable Development Goals

R4L contributes to the United Nations Decade of Action by increasing research participation from the Global South.

The recent Strategic Plan to 2030 focuses on inclusion and equity in the global research community, supporting the creation of an even richer body of research which will help to advance the Sustainable Development Goals.

R4L offers our partners, users and supporters the opportunity to contribute to the creation of a diverse, inclusive and equitable research ecosystem for all.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Our unique public-private structure allows us to work effectively in alignment with SDG17: Partnership for the Goals for sustainable development and to support our community of users as both consumers and producers of critical research and advance SDG10: Reduced Inequalities within and among countries.

While R4L activities directly and indirectly support all the SDGs such as Good health and Wellbeing, Zero Hunger, Clean Water and Sanitation, Industry, innovation and infrastructure, and Peace and Justice, the Research4Life Program is closely aligned to SDG4: Quality Education that is fundamental to creating a peaceful and prosperous world and SDG5: Gender Equity to achieve the empowerment of all women and children.

Research4Life Country Connectors Goal

- Providing local interventions to:
  - heighten awareness,
  - strengthen capacity of information use and management
  - build communities of evidence users within national and regional levels.

2030 Strategic Plan

Beyond Donation

Transitioning from content donation to fostering reciprocal engagement, nurturing rich and diverse scholarly exchange

Global Participation

Aiming to significantly elevate voices and the presence of researchers from lower income countries to the fore of global research dialogue

Local Empowerment

Dedicated to strengthening local research networks and enhancing their role in promoting sustainable development

Creating a tailored approach to networking, promotion, research cycle and information skills building throughout the countries and regions.

National Approach

Collection-specific browsing and searching

Research4Life Unified Content Portal

Research4Life is a public-private partnership of five collections:

Learning objectives

- Understand how to access resources from the Uniform Content Portal and AGORA and ARDI portals.
- Understand the coverage of the five programme collections.
- Browse Research4Life content efficiently.
- Search Research4Life content effectively.
- Use the Hamburger menu's additional tools.
- Understand content country collections.
- Troubleshoot known issues and ask for assistance from the R4L help desk.

Login instructions

A screenshot of a web browser showing the login page for research4life.org. The browser's address bar is highlighted with a red box and contains the URL "login.research4life.org/tacgw/login.cshhtml". The page features a blue background with a white "Secure Login" form also highlighted by a red box. The form includes three input fields: "USER NAME" with a user icon, "PASSWORD" with a lock icon, and "ENGLISH" with a dropdown arrow. A "LOGIN" button is located at the bottom right of the form.

- Users must use the login credentials of their institution – both the username and password are case-sensitive & no spaces are allowed. Note that any login from the five previous programmes will grant access to the Unified Content Portal.
- Users from institutions that have IP-based access to R4L, will not be asked for credentials within the institution's premises & will be automatically logged in.
- Contact the institution's librarian for login info. If not available, contact the help desk - r4l@research4life.org.

Unified Content Portal, AGORA and ARDI options

Three options are displayed; the Unified Content Portal contains the resources of five collections while AGORA (Agriculture, Forestry, Fisheries, Climate & Feed Security) or ARDI (Innovation and Technology) focus on specific disciplines.

Persistent Login

- Persistent Login provides 3 months of recognition for a device that is used to connect to Research4Life from an approved IP address of one of the Research4life institutions.
- Once a user has successfully logged in from an approved IP address, the user can reconnect for three months from the same device and browser without the need to retype the username and password and without the need to be on the campus or the institution's VPN or proxy.
- If the user clears cookies on that device/browser, the persistent login is lost.

Initial display of the Unified Content Portal

- The initial page displays a link to the Summon search box that links to citations and full-text available at your institution.
- Click on the person symbol located at the top right corner of the login page to open the login information –in this case, for a Hinari Training: National Non-governmental login; the symbol has changed.
- Note that, after logging into the portal, you can 'sign-in as a personal user'; see slides 29 & 30.

Open and download continued

The current volume of The Lancet Infectious Diseases has been opened.

Follow the instructions in the subsequent slides.

A screenshot of the journal's website. The header shows "THE LANCET Infectious Diseases" and a navigation menu with links: "This journal", "Journals", "Publish", "Clinical", "Global health", "Multimedia", "Events", and "About". The main content area features a cover image of a person in a blue uniform cleaning a surface with a yellow robot. To the right of the cover image, the text "Dec 2024" and "Volume 24, Number 12, p1287-1402, e725-e794" is highlighted with a red box. Below this, it says "Cover image by Miriam Martincic". At the bottom, there are links for "Current Issue" and "Online First".

A screenshot of the The Lancet Infectious Diseases journal website. The page shows the journal title, volume information (Volume 24, Number 12, p1287-1402, e725-e794), and a cover image. Below the cover image, there are links for "Current Issue" and "Online First". A sidebar on the left lists various content types: Editorial, Comment, Correspondence, Corrections, Newsdesk, Obituary, Profile, Media Watch, Articles, Review, Personal View, and Clinical Picture. The main content area displays a list of articles. The first article is an editorial titled "Clinical trials versus the real world in tuberculosis control" by The Lancet Infectious Diseases. Below the title, there are links for "Full-Text HTML" and "PDF", which are highlighted with a red box. A red arrow points from the left sidebar towards this box. Below the first article, there are two more articles: a comment titled "Mpox control strategies: using behaviour change to complement, not replace, vaccination" and another article titled "CRISPR-Cas3-armed bacteriophages for drug-resistant bacteria". Each article has links for "Full-Text HTML" and "PDF".

Troubleshooting and support

Common issues;

- access to the journal has a blocked popup message.
- failure to properly login with the institution's Username/Password.
- journal or book titles not included in publisher's offer.
- technical problems at the publisher's website.

What to do.

- If the user is logged in and the institution has access to the specific title, this confirms that there is a technical problem at the publisher's website. Report this problem to the Research4Life HelpDesk at r4l@research4life.org

Contact the HelpDesk

When contacting the HelpDesk, please use the following checklist:

- What is your institution name and country?
- What is the username and password you are using? (if applicable)
- Does your institution use IP-based access to Hinari and Research4Life? (if applicable).
- Are you able to login or do you get a 'Failure to authenticate' message?
- Are you having problems accessing all content or a specific journal or book?
- If you have a problem to access a specific title, please write down the name of the journal or book.
- Please include a screenshot (including URL) of the error you experienced.

Tips for using the new content portal

Logging in

To login, click on the person icon at the top of the page:

You will be taken to the login page where you can enter your institution credentials as per the old portals

After logging in, you will be returned to the homepage, and the person icon will have changed to the profile icon:

Personal Sign-in

After logging in with your institution credentials you will now have the ability to create a personal profile on the portal, either by clicking on the 'Register/Sign-in as a personal user' link in the profile dropdown, or from the 'Personal Sign-in' option in the menu

Registering as a personal user allows you to save searches, create search alerts and set up a favourites list (site content searches only, does not apply to Summon searches).

When you are also signed in as a personal user, the profile icon dropdown will display your credentials and a link to 'My Profile' where you can access your personal profile.

Browsing Site Content

From the 'Content' menu option, you can browse by Journals, Books, Reference Sources, Databases and Free Collections (or by Collection from the 'Collections' menu option). When browsing using these options, there are various filters that you can use to refine your results, these are at the side of the page when using a desktop/laptop computer, or can be accessed via the blue 'Filter' button when using a mobile device.

From the 'Content' menu option, you can also choose to browse by Publishers, where you can filter alphabetically, or by Subjects, where you can page through the results.

The 'Recent Resources' menu option takes you to a page that displays content added in the last 30 days.

Searching With Summon

The new portals have Summon search functionality as per the old portals. Summon searches can be submitted from the homepage via the large search box within the image or by using the 'ADVANCED SEARCH' link under the search box.
